SYNOPSIS:

Jeremiah was called to speak to the people of God during a revival under King Josiah and continued to speak to them during their fall to the Babylonians. His task was to hammer home the message that their fall was not due to any lack on God's part but due entirely on their unfaithfulness. However, this was not the end. Jeremiah foretold a return from exile, an everlasting covenant and a new covenant in which God's people would at last embrace the covenant in their hearts. God's people would be reunited and finally fulfill their calling to bring light to the world.
